

Prime Minister's Office - PMO, Bhutan

25 January at 14:04

Announcement

The mass testing of COVID-19 is underway in Thimphu starting today, which will determine the reopening of the capital following the analysis of the results.

In this context, the National COVID-19 Taskforce has decided that stranded people will be allowed to travel without having to quarantine once the mega zones they reside in are cleared through mass screening.

Therefore, individuals who need to travel to their place of residence, including those on emergencies, are requested to come forward during the testing in your megazone.

PMO, Bhutan

Announcement

The mass testing of COVID-19 is underway in Thimphu starting today, which will determine the reopening of the capital following the analysis of the results.

In this context, the National COVID-19 Taskforce has decided that stranded people will be allowed to travel without having to quarantine once the mega zones they reside in are cleared through mass screening.

Therefore, individuals who need to travel to their place of residence, including those on emergencies, are requested to come forward during the testing in your megazone.